Recommend to a friend!

Is there anyone you think should read your book too? Why? Who shouldn’t read it? Why?

Authors tend to base their characters on people they already know in real life.

Which character in your book would you like to be and why?