Dear Parents and Carers,

Re: Dormansland High Street traffic calming consultation

We have received notification recently from Surrey County Council that they are writing to all local residents to engage in a community consultation on a proposed system of traffic calming in Dormansland High Street.

A number of parents and children have already been involved in near misses, including a family who were attempting to cross the road this half term. As it stands, the High Street remains an accident waiting to happen. It is not acceptable to wait until someone is hurt or killed before taking action.

If you have received a consultation letter from Surrey County Council, can I urge you to respond by the closing date of Friday 24th March. It is vital that they receive as many responses as possible, in order to make the final decision about whether or not this traffic calming plan will go ahead. The more voices that we can provide from our school community and local families, the greater the chance will be of the plans to be approved.

We will continue to keep you updated with any agreed action or further proposals that may arise following this consultation.

Many thanks for your support in keeping our local community and young children safe in Dormansland.
