BOURBON WITH HIS DATA SELF!

Starring Bourbon
Reporters: Willow Jones & Eryn Myrdal

A few weeks ago, our school purchased a new puppy named Bourbon. He now waits at the front gate of school welcoming children in each morning. At the moment, he is kept in the office where he is free to roam. He will soon be allowed out on the playground. All the children LOVE him, I interviewed one of them. Here is all they could come up with: ‘He is so CUTE!!!!!!!!!’

He is now 18 weeks old and he won’t grow much more. All the children want him to be able to run around the school of his own free will. Puppy training starts this week and we hope there won’t been too many casualties!

RELAXING IN THE SCHOOL OFFICE WITH HIS FAVOURITE TOY: BUNNY

Gatwick Ghosts
Reporter: Willow Jones

In the middle of December, at Gatwick Airport, two unidentified people flew a drone over the runway. At the moment, police are not aware whether this was purely for fun as a prank or as a deliberate disruption for environmental or other reasons.

Over 2000 people were stuck at the airport in the lead up to Christmas. Many missed their flights and had to cancel their holiday plans.

There were many police officers on duty that day, and all Gatwick staff were asked to cancel their leave and come into work to help with the passenger problems.

At the time of writing, police are still making investigations into who was responsible for this disruption to the airport.

Anyone with any information is advised to contact Surrey or Sussex police.

Dormansland bathrooms get a parent makeover

Reporters: Stevie Middlemiss, Amelia Vasey, Willow Jones & Eryn Myrdal

Over the Christmas holidays, the parents of some children came in and cleaned and re-floored the junior bathrooms and the infant toilets. All the toilets were taken out while the especially hygienic flooring was laid. They were then replumbed back in and given a thorough clean. The locks on the infant cubicle doors were replaced and the walls were given a new coat of paint.

Everyone was so happy and all the children are treating them as if they are royalty.

Next on the list of jobs to be done is more painting to finish off the junior bathrooms, new taps in the infant bathroom, fixing the broken tiles in the boys’ toilets and possibly the replacement of the cubicle walls.

If you are reading this and are one of the parents who made this transformation happen, then we thank you sooooooo much for the work you have done. Everyone is so grateful.

BREXIT: What’s it all about?

Reporters: Stevie Middlemiss, Amelia Vasey, Willow Jones & Eryn Myrdal

Brexit stands for Britain exiting the European Union. In 2016, UK residents voted to leave the EU, with a majority of 52% to 48% wanting to remain.

In the last three years, the UK Prime Minister, Theresa May, has been working hard to negotiate a good deal for Britain to leave the EU without losing any money and so that people from abroad who live in the UK can stay here.

On Tuesday 15th January 2019, the House of Commons had a ‘meaningful vote’ on whether Theresa May had got a good deal for leaving the EU. She was defeated by 432 votes against and 202 votes in favour. This was the worst ever vote result for nearly 100 years in Parliament.

So what happens now?

Politicians want to renegotiate a better Brexit deal. Do you think that Theresa May is up to the challenge?
