MUFTI DAY
FRIDAY 22ND SEPTEMBER

Jeans for Genes, in association with Wolfram Syndrome UK

Just a gentle reminder that next Friday, the 22nd September, Dormansland Primary School will be supporting Jeans for Genes Day, in conjunction with Wolfram Syndrome UK.

The dress code will be a combined school uniform and jeans/jean skirts. If you don't have any jeans and would like to take part, then blue or dark coloured clothing will be fine.

Alternatively, there will be a selection of pin badges to purchase and wear on the day.

For our Year 6 children, who are at Ashdown Forest, please do not wear jeans, as these are not suitable for your day. Instead, there will also be an opportunity to purchase a pin badge during registration.

A suggested minimum donation of £1.00 per child would be gratefully received and collected at the school gates in the morning or during registration.

There will be an assembly next week on both charities. Please do ask your children to tell you about it.

Thank you very much for your support!
