Definition

Relationships Education is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity. Relationships Education involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values. Our programme enshrines Catholic values relating to the importance of stable relationships, marriage and family life. It also promotes those virtues, which are essential in responding to God’s call to love others with a proper respect for their dignity and the dignity of the human body.

Statutory requirements

The Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education, and Health Education (England) Regulations 2019 are made under sections 34 and 35 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017, and provide that pupils receiving primary education must be taught Relationships Education, pupils receiving secondary education must be taught RSE and that all primary and secondary pupils must be taught Health Education.
As a primary Catholic academy school, we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

We do not have to follow the National Curriculum but we are expected to offer all pupils a curriculum that is similar to the National Curriculum including requirements to teach science which would include the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum. When delivering the curriculum, we follow the direction of the Bishops of England and Wales.

In teaching Relationships Education, we are required by our funding agreements to have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

Aims

Our objectives in pursuing a programme of Relationship Education with these purposes are:

To develop the following attitudes and virtues:

- respect for the dignity of every human being - in their own person and in the person of others;
- joy in the goodness of the created world and their own bodily natures;
- responsibility for their own actions and a recognition of the impact of these on others;
- recognising and valuing their own sexual identity and that of others;
- celebrating the gift of lifelong, self-giving love;
- recognising the importance of marriage and family life;
- fidelity in relationships.

To develop the following personal and social skills:

- making sound judgements and good choices which have integrity and which are respectful of the individual's commitments;
- loving and being loved, and the ability to form friendships and loving, stable relationships free from exploitation, abuse and bullying;
- managing emotions within relationships, and when relationships break down, with confidence, sensitivity and dignity;
- managing conflict positively, recognising the value of difference;
- cultivating humility, mercy and compassion, learning to forgive and be forgiven;
• developing self-esteem and confidence, demonstrating self-respect as well as empathy for others;

• building resilience and the ability to resist unwanted pressures, recognising the influence and impact of the media, internet and peer groups and so developing the ability to assess pressures and respond appropriately;

• being patient, delaying gratification and learning to recognise the appropriate stages in the development of relationships, and how to love chastely;

• assessing risks and managing behaviour in order to minimise the risk to health and personal integrity and dignity.

To foster knowledge and understanding of:

• the Church's teaching on relationships and the nature and meaning of sexual love;

• the Church's teaching on marriage and the importance of marriage and family life;

• the centrality and importance of virtue in guiding human living and loving;

• the physical, psychological and emotional changes that accompany puberty;

• the facts about human reproduction, how love is expressed sexually and how sexual love plays an essential and sacred role in procreation;

• how to manage fertility in a way that is compatible with their stage of life, their own values and commitments, including an understanding of the difference between natural family planning and artificial contraception;

Catholic Relationships Education

This policy is founded upon Christian Values and the teaching of the Catholic Church. The inclusion of positive, person-centred education is at the heart of Catholic Christian education and this education is basically about the development, growth and journey of the whole person towards becoming “fully human, fully alive” as a unique creation made in God's image (Genesis 1:26). Education must take full count of the integrity of the whole human person: one body, one soul. Thus the gift of sexuality must be seen as intimately bound to human relationships, especially that of marriage.

Education in sexuality is of paramount importance in a Catholic school. More than ever young people in our care need help and guidance in their struggle to live out their lives as members of the Christian family.
We are involved in relationships and sex education precisely because of our Christian beliefs about God and about the human person. The belief in the unique dignity of the human person made in the image and likeness of God underpins the approach to all education in a Catholic school. Our approach to Relationship Education therefore is rooted in the Catholic Church's teaching of the human person and presented in a positive framework of Christian ideals.

At the heart of the Christian life is the Trinity: Father, Son and Spirit in communion, united in a loving relationship and embracing all people and all creation. As a consequence of the Christian belief that we are made in the image and likeness of God, gender and sexuality are seen as God's gift, reflect God's beauty, and share in the divine creativity. Relationships Education, therefore, will be placed firmly within the context of a relationship as it is there that sexuality grows and develops.

Following the guidance of the Bishops of England and Wales and as advocated by the DfE, Relationship Education will be firmly embedded in the PSHE framework as it is concerned with nurturing human wholeness and integral to the physical, spiritual, emotional, moral, social and intellectual development of pupils. It is centred on Christ's vision of being human as good news and will be positive and prudent, showing the potential for development, while enabling the dangers and risks involved to be understood and appreciated.

All Relationship Education will be in accordance with the Church's moral teaching. It will emphasise the central importance of marriage and the family whilst acknowledging that all pupils have a fundamental right to have their life respected whatever household they come from and support will be provided to help pupils deal with different sets of values.

Curriculum

Relationship Education is a whole-school issue taught through, but not exclusively, RE, In particular, citizenship education should foster pupils' awareness and understanding of democracy, government and how laws are made and upheld. Teaching equips pupils with the knowledge to explore political and social issues, to weigh evidence, debate and make reasoned arguments. It also prepares pupils to take their place in society as responsible citizens, manage their money well and make sound financial decisions.

At key stages 1 and 2, the national curriculum for science includes teaching about the main external parts of the body and changes to the human body as it grows from birth to old age, including puberty.

The national curriculum for computing aims to ensure that all pupils can understand and apply the fundamental principles and concepts of computer science, including logic, algorithms and data representation. It also covers online-safety, with progression in the content to reflect the different and escalating risks that young people face as they get older. This includes how to use technology safely, responsibly, respectfully and securely, how to keep personal information private, and where to go for help and support.

The national curriculum for PE aims to ensure that pupils develop competence to excel in a broad range of physical activities, are physically active for sustained periods of time, engage in competitive sport and activities and lead healthy, active lives.

At The Faber Catholic Primary School, we ensure that Relationships Education, RSE and Health Education complement existing national curriculum subjects and whole school approaches to wellbeing and health. For example, health education complements what is taught through PE by developing core knowledge and broader understanding that enables people to lead healthy, active lives and citizenship complements all of the new subjects in the coverage of law.

The following groups of people will also be involved: Class teachers and relevant outside agencies. Since a Catholic school is committed to the education of the whole person, teaching on relationships and sexuality needs to be reflected in each relevant part of the curriculum. Each discipline will speak with consistency about the meaning of human love and the virtues that are enshrined in the Church’s teaching on human love.

However, all staff will be involved in developing the attitudes and values aspect of the Relationship Education programme. They will be role models for pupils of good, healthy, wholesome relationships as between staff, other adults and pupils. They will also be contributing to the development of pupils’ personal and social skills.

External Visitors

Our school will often call upon help and guidance from outside agencies and health specialists to deliver aspects of Relationships Education. Such visits will always complement the current programme and never substitute or replace teacher led sessions. It is important that any external visitor is clear about their role and responsibility whilst they are in school delivering a session. Health professionals should follow the school’s policies, minimising the potential for disclosures or inappropriate comments using negotiated ground rules and distancing techniques as other teachers would. They will ensure that all teaching is rooted in Catholic principles and practice.

We involve the Designated Safeguarding Lead (or a deputy) in anything that is safeguarding-related in the context of these subjects. They will potentially have knowledge of trusted, high quality local resources that could be engaged, links to the police and other agencies and the knowledge of any particular local issues which it may be appropriate to address in lessons.
Training Provision

Members of staff involved in the implementation of the policy within the school will be supported whenever necessary by appropriate training and advice. Resources and Church documents are available to staff to support understanding of Catholic teaching. Inset time will be made available as appropriate. Ten:Ten resources, as approved by the Archdiocese of Birmingham, will be used as the underlying scheme.

Balanced Curriculum

Whilst promoting Catholic values and virtues and teaching in accordance with Church teaching, we will ensure that pupils are offered a balanced programme by providing an Relationship Education programme that offers a range of viewpoints on issues. Pupils will also receive clear scientific information as well as covering the age-related aspects of the law pertaining to Relationships Education.

Knowing about facts and enabling young people to explore differing viewpoints is not the same as promoting behaviour and is not incompatible with our school's promotion of Catholic teaching.

We will ensure that pupils have access to the learning they need to stay safe, healthy and understand their rights as individuals.

Methodology and Approach

Relationships Education in the school will be delivered within particular subject areas and in PSHE and in accordance with the relevant schemes of work. Where controversial issues are considered there will be opportunities to reflect not only upon the biological or sociological facts but the topics will, at some point, be placed within a moral context and considered in the light of Catholic teaching.

Menstruation

The onset of menstruation can be confusing or even alarming for girls if they are not prepared. Pupils should be taught key facts about the menstrual cycle including what is an average period, range of menstrual products and the implications for emotional and physical health. In addition to curriculum content, schools should also make adequate and sensitive arrangements to help girls prepare for and manage menstruation including with requests for appropriate menstrual products. We consider the needs of the cohort of pupils in designing this content.
By the end of primary school, pupils should know:

Controversial or Sensitive Issues

There will always be sensitive or controversial issues in the field of Relationships Education. These may be a matter of maturity, of personal involvement or experience of children. Pupils are best educated, protected from harm and exploitation by discussing such issues openly within the context of the Relationships Education programme. The use of ground rules in the classroom will help to create a supportive climate for discussion.

Specific class/group arrangements

All departments will teach students within their regular teaching groups.

Criteria for selection of resources

The resources used to support the teaching of this policy within the school will first be selected on the basis that they reflect Christian Values and the teaching of the Church. Secondly, they must also fulfil the criteria laid down by the syllabi; Clarification of the Church’s teaching will be given where necessary. At The Faber Catholic Primary School, we have invested in the Ten:Ten ‘Life to the Full’ programme, and will use and adapt their lessons in relevant curriculum areas and for pastoral citizenship lessons.

Liaison with Parents

We recognise that parents (and other carers who stand in their place) are the primary educators of their children. As a Catholic school, we provide the principal means by which the Church assists parents and carers in educating their children. Parents/carers will be informed of the more sensitive aspects of Relationships Education will be covered in order that they can be prepared to talk and answer questions about their children’s learning. They will also be given access to Ten:Ten’s parental portal (when it goes live), which has supporting resources so issues mentioned in school can be supported at home also.

Parents will be consulted before this policy is ratified by the Directors; they will be invited to comment on policy and query anything upon which they are unclear. This policy, when ratified, will be made accessible to parents via the school website. Our aim is that every parent and carer will have full confidence in the school’s Relationships Education programme to meet their child’s needs.

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory components of Relationships Education up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the school will arrange this. Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing and addressed to the Principal. A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil’s educational record. The Principal will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action. Appropriate alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from Relationships Education. We believe that the controlled environment of the classroom is the safest place for this curriculum to be followed.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil’s educational record.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.
Equal Opportunities

Relationships Education, RSE and Health Education must be accessible for all pupils at The Faber Catholic Primary School. This is particularly important when planning teaching for pupils with special educational needs and disabilities who represent a large minority of pupils. High quality teaching that is differentiated and personalised is the starting point to ensure accessibility. We are also mindful of the preparing for adulthood outcomes, as set out in the SEND code of practice, when teaching these subjects to those with SEND.

We are aware that some pupils are more vulnerable to exploitation, bullying and other issues due to the nature of their SEND. Relationships Education and RSE can also be particularly important subjects for some pupils; for example those with Social, Emotional and Mental Health needs or learning disabilities. Such factors are taken into consideration in designing and teaching these subjects.

As with all teaching for these subjects, we ensure that the teaching is sensitive, age-appropriate, developmentally appropriate and delivered with reference to the law.

Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT)

In teaching Relationships Education and RSE, The Faber Catholic Primary School ensures that the needs of all pupils are appropriately met, and that all pupils understand the importance of equality and respect, and the dignity of the human person. The Faber Catholic Primary School complies with the relevant provisions of the Equality Act 2010, (please see The Equality Act 2010 and schools: Departmental advice), under which sexual orientation and gender reassignment are amongst the protected characteristics.

INCLUSION AND DIFFERENTIATED LEARNING

We will ensure Relationships Education is sensitive to the different needs of individual pupils in respect to pupils’ different abilities, levels of maturity and personal circumstances, for example, their own sexual orientation, faith or culture and is taught in a way that does not subject pupils to discrimination. Lessons will also help children to realise the nature and consequences of discrimination, teasing, bullying and aggressive behaviours (including cyber-bullying), use of prejudice-based language and how to respond and ask for help. (In looking at these questions, it is important to draw links to the school’s inclusion policy).

EQUALITIES OBLIGATIONS
The Board of Directors have wider responsibilities under the Equalities Act 2010 and will ensure that our school strives to do the best for all of the pupils, irrespective of disability, educational needs, race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, pregnancy, maternity, sex, gender identity, religion or sexual orientation or whether they are looked after children.

Procedures for reviewing effectiveness of programme

Individual subject areas and Subject Leads will evaluate their own programmes of study. It is desirable that staff directly involved in teaching the programme would meet to share and discuss any issues or concerns, which arise. The co-ordinators will also over view the implementation of the policy and liaise with subject areas. Pupils will be assessed in accordance with subject arrangements. Books are also monitored to check the teaching and learning that has taken place.

MONITORING AND EVALUATION

The Relationships Education Co-ordinator will monitor the provision of the various dimensions of the programme by examining plans, schemes of work and samples of pupils' work at regular intervals. The programme will be evaluated biannually by means of questionnaires / response sheets/needs assessment given to pupils, and / or by discussion with pupils, staff and parents. The results of the evaluation should be reported to these groups of interested parties and their suggestions sought for improvements. Directors will consider all such evaluations and suggestions before amending the policy.

Name of co-ordinators responsible for planning, delivery and evaluation: Mrs Joanne Riley and Mrs Lisa Machin
