Emily’s Day: Friday 12th May – Wear something pink

Dear Parents/Carers,

On Friday 12th May, we will be remembering Emily Keable who tragically died from Leukaemia whilst she was a pupil at Fairfield School. Emily’s favourite colour was pink, so we ask that children and staff take part by wearing something pink on this day. Alongside wearing pink, we would also be grateful for any kind donations of bought or baked cakes. Over the last few years we have had such amazing support from parents and children with our cake sales; we have decided to do something similar this year. All money raised from donations given will go towards a fantastic charity supporting the research into children with cancer and Leukaemia. Mrs Keable will be around with a bucket, when the school opens, to collect any monetary donations. Any cake donations would be gratefully received and we would appreciate it if they could be brought into the main entrance of the school on Thursday 11th pm or on Friday 12th am.

The cakes will go on sale after school in the hall on Friday 12th May 3.15p.m – 4p.m. Your support in buying one or two of them via a small donation would be fantastic!! We will also be having a short whole school assembly on Friday afternoon 1.45p.m, as well as the children having a chance to blow some bubbles outside, something Emily loved. This year we are also planning an inter-house netball match which the Year 6 children will take part in.

In anticipation, thank you for your support!!

Kind Regards

Mr M Tuckwell (Head of School)
