Dear Parents,

Family Learning – Come and share a book with your child!

In the responses to our annual questionnaire, many parents were requesting additional opportunities to come in to school to learn with their child. We have spoken with several parents on the playground and with parents who attended the Parent Steering Group to explore exactly what parents would like.

Most parents want to be able to come in to classrooms to do a short learning activity with their child either at the start or the end of the day. We are calling the new sessions ‘Family Learning’ and we are aiming to run them each half term. There will be a range of activities including reading together, looking at your child’s learning together, writing together, designing and creating together, as well as playing maths puzzles and games.

We are holding our first ‘Family Learning Session’ of the year on the dates below, and hope many of you will be able to attend. If you do have a suggestion for another Family Learning Session, please do let us know and if we can we will fit it in!
