What else can we add to keep safe at this time?
The adults at school have all enjoyed seeing children who have managed to keep coming to school during lockdown and are looking forward to seeing more come back over the next few weeks.

What might the keyworker children have missed whilst being the only ones in school?

What might the teachers have missed about not many children being at school?

Do you think there were positives to not many people being in school?
The adults are looking forward to more children coming back to school....

What do you think they are looking forward to most?

What would you be looking forward to when you return to school?
A lot of people will have a feeling of anticipation about coming back to school

– What do you think this means?

- Can you think of any synonyms for this word?
When we look forward to something, it can help us to feel positive – we can feel excited and hopeful. These positive feelings can help us during difficult experiences (such as Covid 19).

Is it easier to be positive towards other people than it is yourself?

How can you practise being positive?

Does being positive get easier, the more you do it?
Here are some methods for being positive:

• Say well done to yourself when you have done something that you are proud of
  • Write or draw one thing that makes you smile every day
• Remind yourself of something you are looking forward to and why
  • Look at both sides of a situation
How can we show positivity and make the most of our learning during these difficult times?

Do you always have to feel positive?

What will you do to make the most of your learning?

Will you always have the same ideas as other people? Why?
Your task is to think of ways that you can make the most of your learning whilst either at school or home. How can you bring positivity to your learning?

You can write statements or create images to demonstrate positive learning.

Example:
• Be enthusiastic about all tasks
• Encourage yourself when you find things difficult
• Ask for help when you need it!
Remember that you will not always feel positive at this time but think of ways to bring positivity into your school and home learning whilst also thinking of things to look forward to!
