Tuesday 2\textsuperscript{nd} June

Today’s focus is spellings. First see how many words you can make using the same letters as in the word PENGUIN. I can’t find many! Repeat with the word adventure! You can make it a game by competing with a family member – who can get the most in a minute?

How many different words can you make?

\[ \text{p e n g u i n} \]

Now take a look at the spelling list on the website. Choose 5 words that you need to practise to spell. If possible, choose 5 words that you think could be linked to what you know so far of the story ‘Lost and Found’ by Oliver Jeffers.

Ie. I may choose the word ‘say\textsuperscript{s}’ as I always find that word tricky to spell and, in the story so far, the penguin \textit{say\textsuperscript{s}} nothing!

Write your spellings out forwards and then write them out backwards, and then write them out in your weaker writing hand!

If you want to listen to the story of ‘Lost and Found’ by Oliver Jeffers ready for tomorrow then you can find it here:
