The Meadows Primary School

The Meadows Primary School is an inclusive school and may offer the following range of provision to support children with communication and interaction, cognition and learning difficulties, social, mental and emotional health problems or sensory or physical needs. We welcome all children to our school and endeavour to ensure that appropriate provision is made to cater for their needs.

The range of support deployed will be tailored to individual need following thorough assessment by internal or external agencies. It is designed to promote pupils working towards becoming independent and resilient learners and should not be seen in isolation.

All children with SEND play a full part in the daily life of the school and are encouraged to join in all activities. If additional provision is necessary, the parents/carers are always informed.

The quality of SEND provision is continually monitored, evaluated and reviewed internally in school and externally by the Local Authority.

What is SEND?

The definitions of Special Educational Needs (SEN) below has been taken from the SEND Code of Practice January 2015

Special Educational Needs (SEN)

A child or young person has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if the or she:

- have a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others
- of the same age, or has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions.

For children aged two or more, special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to or different from that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools, maintained nursery schools, mainstream post-16 institutions or by relevant early years providers.

For a child under two years of age, special educational provision means educational provision of any kind.

A child under compulsory school age has special educational needs if he or she is likely to fall within the definition in paragraph above when they reach compulsory school age or would do so if special educational provision was not made for them (Section 20 Children and Families Act 2014).

Post-16 institutions often use the term learning difficulties and disabilities (LDD). The term SEN is used in this Code across the 0-25 age range but includes LDD.

Disabled children and young people

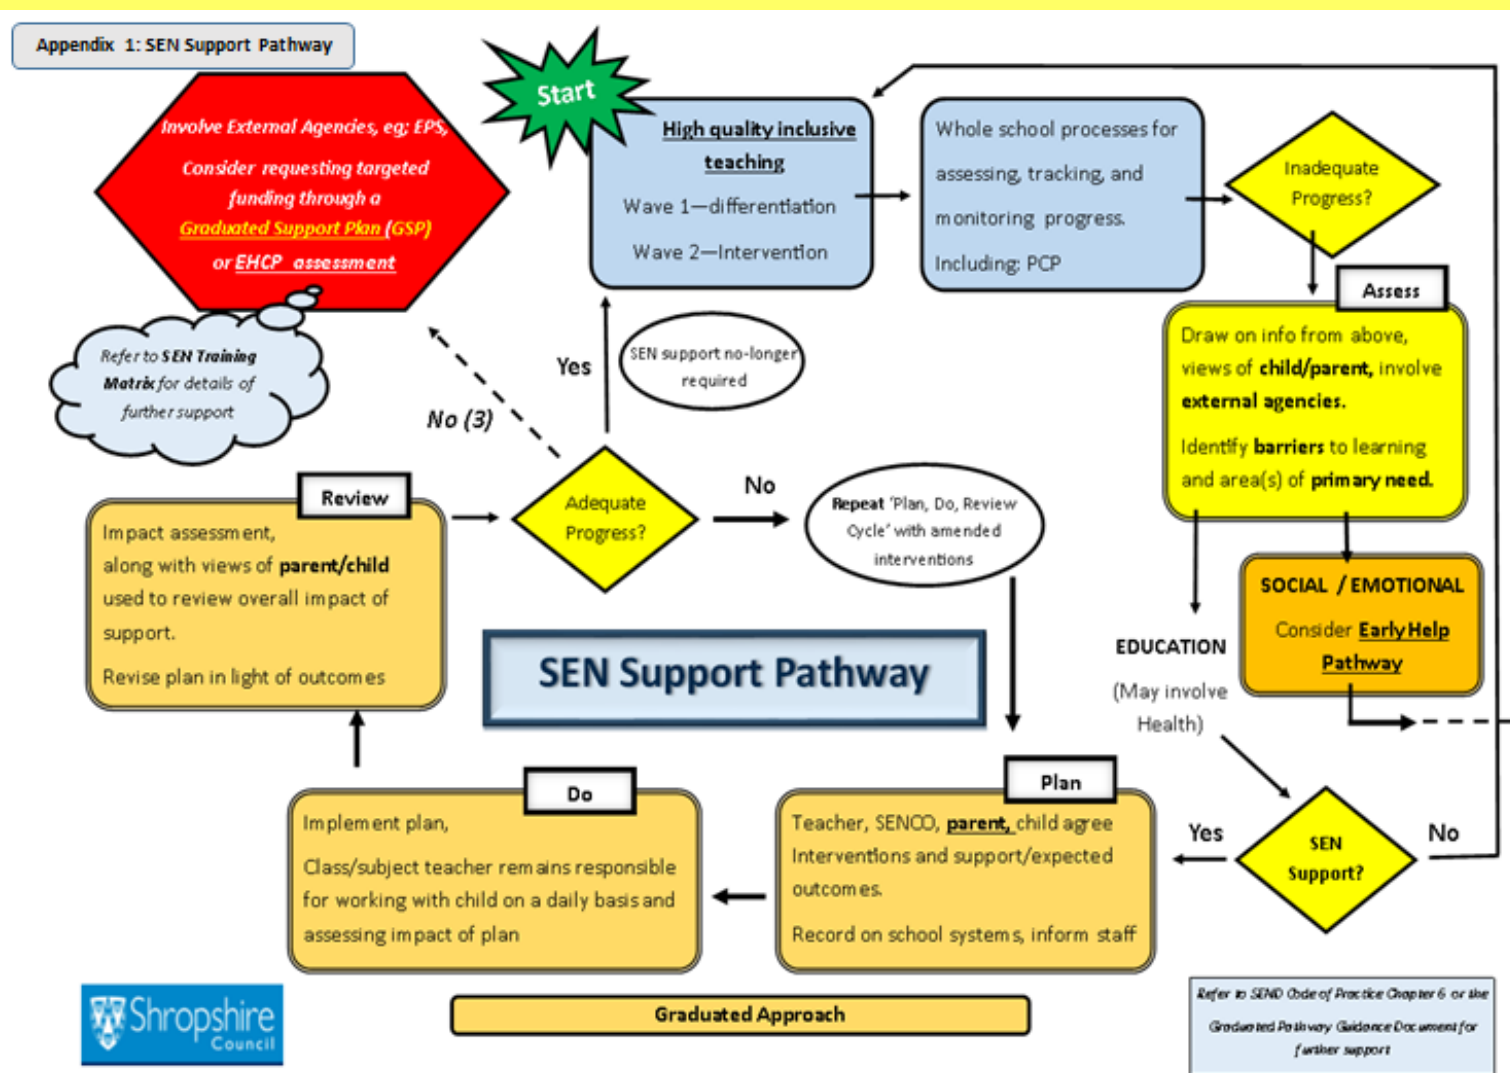

Many children and young people who have SEN may have a disability under the Equality Act 2010 – that is '...a physical or mental impairment which has a long-term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities'. This definition provides a relatively low threshold and includes more children than many realise: 'long-term' is defined as 'a year or more' and 'substantial' is defined as 'more than minor or trivial'. This definition includes sensory impairments such as those affecting sight or hearing, and long-term health conditions such as asthma, diabetes, epilepsy, and cancer. Children and young people with such conditions do not necessarily have SEN, but there is a significant overlap between disabled children and young people and those with SEN.

Where a disabled child or young person requires special educational provision they will also be covered by the SEN definition.

How do we identify SEND?

We are committed to the early identification and intervention of children who may have Special Educational Needs. In school we continually track and monitor pupil progress to ensure that pupils are on track to reach their full potential and beyond. However, on some occasions, some pupils may find it more difficult to make progress. When this happens, we use the, 'Graduated Assess, Plan, do, Review' approach. Please see below.

SEND Governor's Annual Report November 2018

After meeting with Mrs A Jones (SENCo) to discuss the Special Educational Needs provision through-out the school, I am satisfied that the children on the SEND register are receiving additional support for their individual needs as planned. The SENCo is well aware of the progress made by the children on the SEND register, and regularly reviews them. Children on the SEND register are receiving the appropriate support based on their needs. All adults working with a SEND child are informed and supported by the class teacher or the SENCo and they are able to talk to the class teacher or the SENCo regarding the child at any time. There is also access for parents to contact the SENCo if they are concerned. I have also met with Mrs T Evans (Learning Mentor) to discuss the provisions for Early Help and I am happy to report that the children and families are also receiving the necessary support.

How we consult, assess and review with parents and carers

Partnership with parents:

- Parents/carers are notified early if we have any concerns and there is always a willingness to listen to issues brought forward for discussion during termly parents' meetings, other informal conversations, as well the on-going dialogue in children's Home-link books.
- Parents/carers (and pupils where appropriate) are invited to termly review meetings to discuss progress and to be involved in setting targets with appropriate intervention strategies to help the child both in school and at home.
- For pupils who have statements or EHCP's, we will hold annual reviews in addition to the termly meetings. Pupils (where appropriate), parents and professionals who are working with the pupil, will be invited to the meeting to review progress and set new challenging targets for the future.
- We work closely with all parents to listen to their views so that we build on children's previous experiences, knowledge, understanding and skills so that they develop in all aspects of the curriculum.
- Parents will always be kept informed of any additional or different provision being given.
- We respect the differing needs of parents/carers such as a disability or communication and linguistic barriers. Parents/carers are encouraged to use the Shropshire Information Advice and Support Service \(IASS\) for support and advice or to bring an appropriate relative/friend to meetings if they wish to do so.
- We promote a culture of co-operation between parents, schools, the Local Authority and others. This is important in enabling anyone with SEND to achieve their full potential.

We believe that parent/carers involvement and support is vital to the success of the education of the children and especially those with SEND.

How we consult with children with SEND

Pupil participation:

- Children, who are capable of forming views, have a right to receive and make known information, to express an opinion, and to have that opinion taken into account in any matters affecting them. The views of the children in school are given due weight according to their age, maturity and capability.
- Pupils participate, where possible, in all the decision making processes, including setting termly targets and contributing to their individual learning plans, discussing their choices, assessment of needs and in the review procedures.

How we adapt our Curriculum and learning environment to include pupils with SEND

We believe that all practitioners are teachers of children/pupils with SEN and differentiate according to the needs of the children in their care.

- Children/pupils with SEND are fully integrated into the life of the school and the curriculum, recognising the strengths of every individual as well as any areas for development, and ensuring all contribute to the social and cultural activities of the school.
- Children/pupils who make slower progress will be given carefully differentiated Learning opportunities to help them progress with regular and frequent careful monitoring of their progress, which will involve the parents/carers and children in working in partnership with the school.
- All children will receive a broad and balanced curriculum, relevant to the needs of the individual. Access to the curriculum is therefore facilitated by whatever means necessary to ensure that success is achieved.

Below are some of the adaptations we make for pupils with SEND

How we support pupils' transition from Nursery→Reception→KS1→KS2→Secondary

Before pupils join us from a wide range of nurseries in the local area, our EYFS Manager, Mrs Sam Thomas, makes contact and visits the different providers to discuss any additional needs pupils may have. Any individualised learning plans are then shared with the school's SENCo so that provision can be put in place in preparation of the transition. Several taster days are also arranged for prospective Reception pupils so they get to experience the routine before joining us in the autumn term. Parents will also be invited to workshops so that they can discuss any concerns they may have regarding transition and learn how best to support their child's early reading, writing and numeracy skills.

Our Learning Mentor (Tracey Evans) provides individualised transition programmes throughout the school and beyond to pupils who are anxious about moving up to their next class base. This may be because of a discussion with parents, pupils or staff at the school.

The transition process usually commences at the beginning of the summer term in preparation for the transition in September. An initial contact meeting in school would be held with the pupil, learning mentor and class teacher, so that he/she can get to know where their coat peg would be placed, what the class routine might look like, or just an informal discussion so that any specific anxieties can be addressed early on. Pupils may create their own passport before the meeting to share with their new teacher, if this is felt necessary.

When moving from Primary to Secondary School, all of our local feeder Secondary Schools offer information evenings and transition programmes for Year 6 pupils. However, some pupils and parents sometimes may need some support in deciding which school will best suit their individual needs. Our Learning Mentor (Tracey Evans) can arrange visits to the local Secondary feeder schools so an informed decision can be made. The decision however, must be one parent and pupil makes together; Mrs Evans is unable to offer her opinion in this matter. Once a Secondary school has been decided, she can begin to liaise with the secondary school and Parent Partnership where necessary, to create an individualised transition programme for the pupil.

Provision of Pupils with SEND

- We aim to provide a range of adaptations to the curriculum to meet the needs of SEND pupils
- A proportion of our budget is allocated for resources, which includes identified materials for use to support children who need additional or different activities.
- We are continually adding to our library/resource base of books/equipment/materials available for children with SEND. Various technological aids are available for us to use when necessary.
- Support in school for a child with SEND may be offered during quality first teaching, during small intervention groups working on a specific target, during playtime/lunchtime, or 1:1 support on a specific target.
- If a child has an Education and Health Care Plan (EHCP), they will receive support and provision in school based on their individual needs, as specified in the plan.

Curriculum entitlement:

- All children are entitled to a broad, balanced and relevant curriculum, including the National Curriculum. Progress is continually monitored using a range of assessments including: observations/baseline assessment/level descriptions in the National Curriculum at the end of the key stage/objectives. All information gained is used to support planning in order to aid progress.

Inclusion:

- We strive to create a sense of community and belonging for all our pupils. We have an inclusive ethos with high expectations and suitable targets, a broad and balanced curriculum for all children and systems for early identification of barriers to Learning and participation.

How we assess or evaluate the effectiveness of our SEND provision and how we involve parents, carers and pupils in this process

Monitoring the progress of all children/pupils is an on-going process which enables early identification of any children who may require additional or different provision to be made.

Review:

- The school's SEND provision is subject to a regular cycle of monitoring evaluation and review.
- The SENCO ensures that all appropriate records are kept and available when needed. These are always available for parents/carers to see and can be a source of invaluable information for teachers in other classes/the next school/further educational establishments.

Evaluation procedures:

- The governing body, will on an annual basis, consider and report on the effectiveness of the school's work and suggest amendments to the SEND Policy in light of their evaluation.
- The broad principles and objectives set out in the policy lay the foundation for the criteria by which we evaluate the success of our Local Offer.
- The SENCO and subject co-ordinators monitor classroom practice/analyse pupil tracking data and test results for pupils with SEN.
