Calling all men from our Newton families….We need you!

What is this?
This is an event for the men in the family. We would like to invite Dads, Stepdads, Grandads and Uncles into school to take part in some team building and storytelling challenges.

Why are we doing this?
Research suggests that men who are involved regularly with their children’s education have a massively positive influence - your children will enjoy, value and succeed in education.
Believe it or not statistically 75% of school events are attended by the women in the family.
We want to get you men involved!

When is this fantastic event?
Wednesday 28th November 2018.
There will be three sessions throughout the day. We ask that you choose one of the timeslots and come and join us.

Who is leading this event?
We have Bob Parker from Adventure Unlocked leading the day. He intends to make the workshops as hands on and active as possible. There will be lots of fun and learning too! The workshops will be outdoors and, weather permitting, will include a camp fire.

How do we take part?
Choose a session below, tick and sign to say you are coming. Prepare for an awesome session with your child(ren).

Dear Mrs. Hughes,

I would like to take part in the Men Behaving Dadly event.
Please indicate the session you would most like to attend by putting a number in the box 1=1st choice  2= 2nd choice  3= 3rd choice.
