Write a short story about this troll and his servant. Think about how you will introduce the characters, describe where they live and then think about what the problem in the story will be and how thy overcome this.