Imagine you wake up to find this octopus in your kitchen sink.

Who is he?

How did he get there?

What does he want?

You can write about this any way you choose how to: you could write a story, a newspaper, a poem or write a letter to your friend or grandparents telling them what has happened.