Dear Parents/Carers,

There have been a multitude of thoughts going through my head this week, but one that does not/will not subside. That is, simply … I miss you. I miss the children, I miss the staff and I miss you, our parents and wider community.
However, I am not going to dwell on this because, although I can’t see most of you, please be reassured that I/we are still here. We are here if you need to speak, email or video conference with us. Please don’t feel you are on your own - if you need anything - whether it be a chat, advice, support emotionally, financially or otherwise, please let us know. You have the teachers’ email addresses and you can contact any of us at: admin@stvps.co.uk

A video for you to ponder:

We are here. Just ask!

Headteacher Headlines

● Competition time! In these strange times, I am setting a challenge for our children. Awards will be announced each week, in each class, for the following:
  ★ The pupil who has shown a particular act of kindness (parents, please let us know)
  ★ The pupil who has engaged the most with their learning
  ★ The pupil who has made the most effort
  ★ The most creative idea of the week (not necessarily linked to schoolwork)

In addition, please send any videos of the above or other novel videos of the children learning or practising new skills so that we can share on our social media sites. These can be emailed to Mr Grear at:

bgrear@stvps.co.uk

Please be assured you remain in my prayers.

Wishing you all a peaceful weekend. Stay at home, pray, enjoy each other’s company ...

God bless,

Mrs M McCarthy
