World Book Day

To celebrate World Book Day on Thursday, everyone dressed as their favourite book character. It was wonderful to see the imaginative costumes from the children (and staff!). Each class prepared a poem to perform to the rest of the school during our wonderful poetry Eisteddfod. The children relished performing a range of intriguing poems, the standard was so high. Thank you to all the staff, especially Miss Hutchinson for organizing it all.

Coronavirus

I am sure you will have seen the news about the spread of the coronavirus. We are monitoring the situation very carefully and are complying with all advice from the Government, and Ealing local authority. We have not had any cases of the virus, but have reminded children about the importance of washing hands carefully and regularly. Our bathroom soap dispensers are checked daily. The latest advice on the virus is that if you have recently travelled from affected areas you should stay at home and call 111. In this case your child should also remain at home and you should inform the school. (you can use the link below for most recent advice on affected areas.)
Please be reassured that should the situation change then we will act swiftly and inform you immediately.

French phrase of the week:
Salut! Hi and bye

World Book Day Writing Competition

We challenge you to become an author and submit a story of no more than 100 words to our mini saga writing competition. It can be your own story or a version of one you know and love. There will be prizes for the winning entries!

Closing date is Thursday 12th March
Please hand your entries to your class teacher.
